Four members of council were present at the meeting, President J. K. Hein being in the chair. The others were Charles O. Frye, Oscar C. Linn, and Charles Schmeiler.

Ex-Tax Collector Parsons' report showed that of 1909 taxes he placed in the hands of the treasurer $68.60. The report of Burgess George Risbeck showed that the total fines for the month were $49.75, of which $40 75 was paid, the balance being served out by prisoners. A number of bills were ordered paid.

Borough Clerk Ira L. Nickeson was instructed to notify Chief of Police C. W. Albright and Street Commissioner Jacob Hormell to be present at the regular meetings of council.

Health Officer William Darby appeared before council in reference to the discharge from a sewer inlet at the Pittsburg Plate Glass company's plant. The Plate Glass officials stated that the matter had been adjusted.

Councilman Linn reported that $420 had been realized through the holding of the carnival here recently for the purchasing the police auto patrol.

How the Acheson Papers Knock Us

Observer Contributes Some Literary Gems on Charleroi's Fourth.

Charleroi celebrated the greatest Fourth of July in its history. Thousands attended the monster celebration. The entire town was decorated in the national colors and a monster parade featured the celebration. It was a noticeable feature that not a single miner was in the parade. It was a display of wealth, of automobiles and politicians. The Charleroi celebration was rivaled by that of Monessen, across the river. The Westmoreland countians had a parade much superior to that of the Magic City.—Washington Observer.

ALL INJURED ONES ON WAY TO RECOVERY

Anna Hamilton Will Live In Spite of Terrible Injuries

NO DATE SET FOR INQUEST

In spite of the terrible injuries which nine times out of ten would cause death, Anna Hamilton, the 19-year-old girl of Roscoe, who was the worst injured in the automobile accident at Beechwood park crossing a week ago, will live. This was the word received from the Monessen-Charleroi hospital this morning. Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Blanche Matheny, both of whom it was feared would die, will also recover. All three are conscious during their waking hours, and talk some. Their minds do not seem to be affected, but the hospital authorities do not allow them to excite themselves over the accident. Anna Hamilton had her skull fractured over her left eye, and the physicians in attendance feared she would lose the sight of this one eye, but there is hope that even this may not be affected. Coroner James T. Heffran has not announced the date of the postponed inquest, but it will not be held until the people in the hospital are in shape to give testimony.

Culler

Grace Culler, 10 months and 27 days old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culler of 1203 McKean avenue, died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock after an extended illness. The funeral will be held from the residence at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. M. Doak. Interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

Yarn Social

The Epworth League of the Methodist church is arranging to hold a "yarn" social at the home of John H. Frye, on Fifth street, next Tuesday evening. The feature will be the untangling of balls of yarn from bushes, and trees, and then the telling of "yarns" on assigned subjects.

OUTCOME OF STRIKE PLEASING TO MINERS

President Feehan Views Settlement as a Victory ---Looks for Prosperous Conditions Year Round.

President Francis Feehan of the Number 5 district, U. M. W. of A., who was in Charleroi to spend the Fourth, professed himself to be much pleased with the outcome of the mine controversy, and the satisfactory settlement of it. He said that it was a victory for the men.

The settlement was effected upon compromise terms. All dues and assessments will be collected through the offices of the companies. Among the other concessions obtained are uniform wages for motormen of $2.70 per day, uniform wages for wiremen of $2.70 per day, abolition of charges for safety lamps, and a uniform rate of 5 cents per inch for slate over 12 inches thick.

President Feehan said that everything points to a prosperous year. The mines are nearly all working in this district and few miners are unemployed

NEW COMPANY PURCHASES COAL IN WEST VIRGINIA

Charleroi Man is Vice President----Assists in Closing up the Deal---Good Price Paid

Jesse K. Johnston, vice president and general manager of the Pitcairn Coal company, closed up a big coal deal at Clarksburg, W. Va., last week, whereby the Harry B. Clark Coal and Coke company of Fairmont W. Va., takes possession of the Pitcairn mine immediately for a period of twenty years on a royalty basis, which will net the Pitcairn Coal company $1,250 per acre. The tract of the Pitcairn Coal company is one of the best in the Fairmont region, containing 1,000 acres of Pittsburg vein nine feet thick, drift workings and self draining. It is also the key to adjoining coal, and has frontage for additional openings on the West Virginia and Pittsburg railroad. It has a modern equipped plant and miners village, and its present capacity is 1,000 tons a day.

The officials of the Harry B. Clark Coal and Coke company are Harry B. Clark of Fairmont, president, and John A. Clark, Jr., general manager. It is the intention of the officials of the Harry B. Clark Coal and Coke company to build additional miners houses, and an additional tipple, in order to increase the present output. The value of the Pittsburg vein in West Virginia is increasing very fast and recently large tracts in the Fairmont region have been purchased by the Jamison Coal and Coke company, The Keystone Coal and Coke company and the Pittsburg and Buffalo Coal company, all large Pennsylvania operators.

YOUNG COUPLE TWICE MARRIED AT COSHOCTON

Come to Charleroi, Where They Will Make Their Home.

FIRST WEDDING OPPOSED

After having been twice wedded, Frank O. Fahner and wife, have come to Charleroi from Coshocton, Ohio, to reside, where the groom is employed at the Casino restaurant. The bride was Miss Mary Drushl daughter of John Drushl. About a year ago the two were married in Coshocton, Ohio, and came to Charleroi. The bride's parents were Catholics, but the groom was a Protestant. For this reason the bride's father would not countenance the ceremony. A short time ago Mrs. Fahner returned to Coshocton, and in the meantime Mr. Fahner embraced the Catholic faith, with the result that the couple were again wedded recently according to the rites of that church.

NOTED RINGGOLD LEADER VISITOR HERE ON FOURTH

Col. Griffith Comes From Ohio to Participate in Parade

Among the noted men in Charleroi for the Fourth celebration was Col. W. E. Griffith, a prominent contractor of Ohio, who responded to the invitation to come and participate in the parade. Col. Griffith is a veteran of the Civil war, and was a member of the famous Ringgold cavalry. He remained over for a visit with friends in this section.

Col. Gritffith is prominent in Grand Army and military circles, being a past department commander of the G. A. R. for the State of Maryland, and a member of the Loyal Legion and several military clubs. He was also a National bank examiner and has held various government positions. He claims to be one of the youngest "old boys" in the Ringgold organization. He is expected to be one of the prominent figures at the Ringgold reunion to be held in Donora in August.

WASHINGTON AVES. FAIL TO APPEAR

There was no game in the church league last night, owing to a misunderstanding. The Methodists and the Washington Avenue Presbyterians were to play, but the latter team, it is said, were not aware of the scheduled contest, it being a postponed game. The Methodists played a picked up team and were beaten in a good game by the score of 3 to 1. Pollock pitched for the Methodists, and for the "Outlaws" Osborne pitched and Haywood caught.

Game Tonight

The "Railroaders" consisting of freight and Adams Express employes will play the Methodists on the baseball grounds tonight.

CANDIDATES FOR COUNTY JOBS BEGIN TO LINE UP

Foreigners Fined for Celebrations

Tenth Street Crowd Had Too Much Going on The Fourth of July

For fighting on the Fourth of July Frank Sank, Peter Kubick and B. Kubick were each fined $2.00 and costs, Joe Kubick $3 00 and costs, Tom Balinsky and James Steinslisky each $1.00 and costs by Burgess Risbeck at a hearing last night. The physical discussion was in the Tenth street district, but what it started from is a mystery. It appears that Joe Kubick beat his wife, and the others beat each other. Joseph Wilinksi, a bad man who had a knife and thought he knew how to use it, was arrested in connection with the affair, but had not been given his hearing yet

BUM FIREWORKS DISPLAY

To the Editor of the Mail:

Kindly allow me sufficient space in your paper to make an apology to the public for the very bum and miserable fireworks display inflicted on them on the evening of the 4th of July. The fireworks purchased were of a good quality and of such a variety as to have pleased the most exacting. The fault was entirely with the fireworks committee. There was a sufficient number of men on this committee, and had they reported for duty the display could have been put off with a snap and vim that would have pleased everybody. But one man showed up after the undersigned had done all the heavy work. I had been promised a tarpaulin to cover the stock to protect it from falling sparks and burning material. That did not materialize, which caused annoying delays, and in their exposed condition we risked our lives every minute of the time until they were all discharged

Mr. Louis Collins was the only committeeman who reported. Mr. James Schnelbach volunteered his services which were gladly accepted and highly appreciated. If the public will forgive me this time they will never have occasion to again, that is if Providence allows me to retain what little bit of grey matter I now possess.

Yours very truly,
Alfred P. Stewart.

P. S.—This apology is caused by the sluring remarks of some of my wise guy friends, who could not successfully put a match to a hot plate even after their women folks had assured them there was no danger.

Four Mentioned Prominently for District Attorney

OFFICES TO BE FILLED

Sheriff to be Elected Next Year Along with Other Officials.

Already candidates are beginning to line up in preparation for the contest which will be waged at the June primaries next year for district attorney. Two persons are considering the feasibility of entering the race for the Republican nomination, and it is said have definitely decided to come out as candidates. These are Ralph Allison and James P. Eagleson, both prominent attorneys of Washington.

A number of the friends of C. L. V. Acheson, it is said, will urge him to be a candidate for a second term, and if he accedes to their wishes is expected to make a strong fight. Another person who will likely come out is T. H. W. Fergus, the present assistant district attorney, who would put up a strong battle.

Indications also point to a desperate fight for the Republican nomination for county treasurer. While no one in particular is known to have announced, it is stated that several candidates are already laying plans to make the run, and will announce at the earliest possible minute. Among these is said to be Boyd Parshal of Washington, who was a candidate for the nomination in 1908, and who made a very creditable showing. The river district is pretty sure to turn up at least one candidate and as the field is open many others will no doubt make a try for the nomination.

There will also be a hot fight for the nomination for sheriff, and every section of the county will in all probability turn up one or more candidates. Thus far Bert Lutton of Washington and "Abbey" Gregg of Monongahela are talked of as candidates. The offices of prothonotary, clerk of the courts, register and county commissioner will also bring many candidates in the field. As the nomination depends upon the getting of the most votes, no one can dictate any of the nominations, and for this reason a hot fight is anticipated at the next primary.

PROPERTY OWNERS WANT LONG ALLEY GRADED AND PAVED

A petition has been presented to council by former Councilman J. A. Odbert on behalf of property owners along Long alley, between Secon and Fourth streets, to have that par of the alley paved. The petition is signed by more than the necessary two-thirds of the owners. It was not taken up at the meeting of council last night, but will likely be deferred until an adjourned session.

The North Charleroi Land company has sold to John A. Wehner of Charleroi a lot in North Charleroi fronting on Center avenue. The consideration was $650.

Hon. C. Ed. Crothers

The position of Ex-Assembly C. Ed. Carothers, since the meeting of the Washington county Republican committemen, is unique in the history of this county's politics. It reflects unlimited credit upon Mr. Carothers and affords a sense of unsual gratification to his many followers and supporters in the convention and throughout the county. The only unpleasant feature arising from the contest is that the former political boss and now charlatan, through his two newspapers, and by means of a woefully distorted summary of the proceedings, has taken advantage of an opportunity to humiliate his former valued ally. The convention showed no animosity toward Carothers, but by a vote of sixty to forty-two, abstained from giving any one an endorsemnt for a vacancy which did not then exist, and at the same time purposely refrained from giving the over eager Acheson and his Democratic and new party soreheads campaign material. Mr. Tener's friends had selected to introduce the resolution a delegate from his own voting precinct and a delegate from Carother's voting precinct, each of whom was afterwards heard to refer to Carothers and his candidacy in terms of the highest approval. Carothers was not trying to assert himself against Congressman Tener's leadership. Like many other faithful workers in the party, he has been more than once heard to remonstrate against Mr. Tener's refusal to dictate political policies in the county.

Two years ago, when the exodus from the Acheson oligarchy was brought about by the positive refusal of the very best men of the party to longer co-operate under the treacherous and double-dealing system of perfidy and utter lack of fidelity of the former boss, Carothers was one of the first to enlist under the new regime, whose principal aim was to be honest, open and fair in politics. No one has given the new movement more valuable effort; no one is in a position to better assist in its maintenance.

Carother's Republicanism is of the staunch variety; his influence among his friends is great; there is no political distinction to which he may not honestly aspire. We have no quarrel with him and but one slight variance; he had become so imbued with the spirit of personal dictatorship, so long and so discreditably promulgated by his former unscrupulous chief, that he does not respond quite as readily as we could like to see him to the [illegible] and open community of interest plan of organization.

The Average Man

No truer statement was ever made than the one by John Mitchell in his speech here on the Fourth that it is the average man on whom the nation depends—the man of average ability who constitutes the great majority in every walk of life. It is the united, persistent and systematic effort of this mediocre talent that constitutes progress; and much of our civic criticism is due to the fact that our preception is away ahead of popular practice. This comparison is more or less the cause of the pessimism that exists in relation to social conditions. We forget that the great mass of people are not geniuses, but must laborously solve the problems of life for themselves before they are accepted and become living rules of action.

While there should be every laudable effort to raise and advance the intellectual standard, there is grave danger of over-shooting the mark. This is pershaps most manifested in our public schools and other institutions of learning. Instead of adapting courses of study and instruction to the comprehension of the average intellect, many of them are far beyond this comprehension. In an effort to raise the standard the limitations of the average intellect are overestimated, and work is put upon pupils which only those especially endowed intellectually are able to grasp. Many a boy and girl leaves high school with but a hazy preception of the course gone over, who would have been able to thoroughly grasp and apply the rules of percentage and to understand and put to practical use the rules of grammer had their time been devoted to these studies instead of injecting a smattering of the abstract sciences and dead languages. Many applicants for admission to colleges and technical institutions fail to pass the examinations because the standard of admission is fixed too far above the average comprehension, and the result is that practicability in the professions is sacrificed to a large degree.

As it is the average man who is to rule, the standard of education and ethics should be gauged accordingly. While it can undoubtedly be advanced, it is in the line of evolution and must of necessity be slow. It is all very well to hitch your chariot to a star, but the wheels cannot hit the high places all the time.

Time to Arbitrate

With the possibility of a mine strike in this district just averted, another cloud has arisen on the industrial horizon. The Pennsylvania Railroad trainmen are taking a strike ballot, and it is believed that unless the differences can be arbitrated traffic and travel over this vast system will be seriously affected. This will interfere with coal shipments, and would undoubtedly cause a suspension of many of the mines in this district, thereby entailing great business losses in all branches of trade.

Elsewhere in this issue is given a statement of both sides of the question over which the Pennsylvania Railroad and its trainmen differ. The statement in behalf of the men virtually acknowleges that the wages paid are as high as those of the competing lines of the Pennsylvania, but the men claim that as it has been the policy of the road to pay higher wages than its competitors, they want a raise at this particular time. The company claims that ninety per cent of its traffic is in competition with the lines quoted, and as the increase asked would amount to millions of dollars a year more to the Pennsylsylvania than its competitors would have to pay, it cannot be granted without a corresponding loss of business.

This is the situation, and unless it can be amicably adjusted this district will suffer from the consequences of the interruption in industry that will follow.

SERVICE OF HOME COMPANY AHEAD IN ANNOUNCING RESULT

To the Editor of the Mail: Last evening the Mail under the head of "Bulletin Service Pleasing" published an account of the good service given by the Bell people in their bulletins from Reno. I do not wish to detract anything from the Bell Telephone company as their bulletins were enjoyed by many, but I think the Charleroi Telephone company deserves mention for their good service.

The returns as given by the Charleroi Telephone company were 20 minutes ahead of the Bell company. The Bell Telephone company was announcing the rounds at Fifth street, when people came there who had heard at Hotel Walford though the Charleroi Telephone company that Jeffries was knocked out in the 15th round. Upon inquiry 15 minutes after the announcement of the finish by the Charleroi Telephone company the Bell company denied the truth of this report and said the fight was not over. The quick and reliable service of the local company deserves much praise, and I desire to thank them publicly for it.

TWO NEW SINGERS ARE ENGAGED TO SING AT PALACE

Bingham Albright of Monongahela one, New York Man Another

Two new singers appeared at the Palace Theatre Monday, which add very materially to the attractions of that popular house. These are Chas. Jones of New York city, a high baritone of unusual merit, and Bingham Albright of Monongahela, who is celebrated as a bass in church choir work. This is the latter's first appearance on the stage. Last night he sang with fine effect "When the Light House Bells Ring Ding Dong." Mr. Jones has a new illustrated song that brought repeated encores: "It's Hard to Kiss Your Sweetheart When the Last Kiss Means Goodbye," and Miss Laura Lahew's illustrated song was "The Kerry Barn Dance." This trio of singers makes a strong combination.

Manager Barnhart has also made a change this week by increasing the reels of pictures to three, and giving but two shows each evening. This, with the increased staff of singers, makes a strong entertainment. Some of the notable pictures recently presented were "The Judgement of the Deep," "The Fireman's Daughter," and "A Bad Man's Last Deed." The pictures change nightly.

HE FED THE STAFF.

Fine Dinner For a Hungry Crowd on a Small Capital.

Years ago the late Senator E. W. Carmack was editor of the Nashville Democrat, a paper that had a precarious life and flickered out on Thanksgiving day.

When the staff came around on Thanksgiving afternoon Carmack met them with the announcement that the paper was dead and that they were all without jobs. This was sadder than it seems now, for the paper had not been paying salaries for some time.

"Boys," said Carmack, "it's all over. The sheet is dead. But we shall not want for a Thanksgiving day dinner. How much money have we?" A search of all pockets showed $4.70.

"Plenty," said Carmack. "Come with me."

They went to the best restaurant and sat down, and Carmack ordered a sumptuous dinner, with turkey and everything complete. After the dinner was over and the diners were smoking the best cigars the house had Carmack called the waiter in his grandest manner and said: "Boy, you have served us admirably. We are more than pleased. Here is a small sum to compensate you for your trouble and as a slight token of our gratification."

"Thank yo', boss," grinned the waiter; "thank yo'. But how about this yere check of $19.70 for that dinner you all just had?"

"Boy," exclaimed Carmack, "what is your status here? Are you a waiter or are you the financial manager of this concern?"

"'Deed, boss, I's only a waiter."

"Well, then," said Carmack, "don't trouble yourself about the financial affairs of the place. Leave that to the manager." And he stalked out, followed by the feasted staff.

But he paid when fortune smiled again.—Cleveland Leader.

ITS YOUR KIDNEYS

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Charleroi Citizen Shows How to Cure Them

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness, when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Charleroi people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. W. L. Evans, 104 Lookout avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "Several years ago a member of my family complained of a dull pain in the small of the back and difficulty with the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills were used and proved so beneficial that when the person referred to recently began to suffer from kidney trouble again Doan's Kidney Pills were immediately procured at Piper Bros.' Drug Store. They proved to be a specific for disorders of the kidneys. I highly recommend this excellent preparation to other kidney sufferers."

TRAINMEN MAY GO ON STRIKE

Pennsylvania Men Want More Than New York Central or B. and O. Trainmen.

COMPANY MAKES STATEMENT

Philadelphia, July 4.—A strike ballot is being distributed among the trainmen of the Pennsylvania railroad because the company has refused to comply with demands for further increases in the wages of trainmen and yardmen. The statement of facts in the ballot is eminently fair, but certain matters should be explained and others amplified.

A criticism of the company's action is made that an increase of 6 per cent was granted to the employees regardless of the expressed desires of the committees.

The company has a duty to all of its employees as great as to its conductors and trainmen. It has been the well established policy of the company to meet changed conditions promptly, so that the employees in all departments may at once receive wages as high as or higher than employees in corresponding service of other railroads.

The determination to take a strike vote was reached after a conference on Tuesday with General Manager W. H. Myers, who informed the committees "that the company would accept the arbitration award of the New York Central; that it would adopt all that embodies the principles for which they contend and the rates that have been put into effect on the New York Central, leaving the company's high rate stand, but not increasing them by making a ten hour day apply to the rates which were made to fit an eleven and twelve hour day, or that the company would try to meet these conditions by adjustment, fitting its rates of pay and conditions of work to the New York Central award as near as possible, as has been done in the rates that have been posted recently."

With reference to this declaration made by General Manager Myers the company has called to the attention of the trainmen the following quotation from the strike ballot which is to be circulated among the employees:

"The specific offer made by the company was that it was willing to apply the New York Central award, putting in the mileage system in its entirety with the minimum day, provided the men would accept therewith the New York Central rates. As the rates that now obtain on this property are and have been for a large portion of the service materially higher than the New York Central rates, this offer was naturally rejected.

"Generally speaking, yard rates put into effect by your company compare favorably with rates paid by other companies in the territory, but we contend that both road and yard rates should be higher on our line than paid by other companies for similar service, because the policy of the Pennsylvania has always seemingly been to educate their employees in the belief that certain of such employees were entitled to from 5 to 20 per cent more than paid by other companies for similar service. We feel we are entitled to a continuation of the practice accompanied by standard condition of payment."

Ninety-five per cent of the gross earnings of the Pennsylvania railroad are based on transportation rates, which are made as a result of competition in the north with the New York Central and in the south with the Baltimore and Ohio. The company has to compete with these railroads, and although its rates of pay have been higher and working conditions better than those of the former roads, as the rates of pay of these railroads approach those of the company the latter cannot maintain the same difference between the rates of pay which must of necessity in the natural course of events reach a common basis. It is true that the other railroads in this territory have made increases, but they have not reached the rates generally paid by the Pennsylvania railroad.

That the company's employees may appreciate the seriousness of this situation and that they may realize the effect of voting "yes" to this ballot, they should bear in mind that the rates which were adopted on the Baltimore and Ohio and on the New York Central—rates which they do not want to accept from the Pennsylvania—were arrived at after arbitration, Judge Knapp of the interstate commerce commission and Mr. Neill, commissioner of labor, being the arbitrators in one case and Mr. E. E. Clark, member of the interstate commerce commission and formerly president of the Order of Railway Conductors, and Mr. P. H. Morrissey, formerly president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and now president of the Railway Employees Investors' association, in the other.

In a statement posted on bulletin boards all over the lines east of Pittsburg and Erie the company says that "the committee of trainmen particularly called attention to the fact that each member should vote with full knowledge that if the necessary majority of the membership employed upon the lines vote in favor of a strike extreme action will be taken unless the company recedes from its position. Each employee should take the copy of the ballot, read it carefully, as well as the foregoing statement, and then vote as each feels that he should vote in fairness to the company and to himself."

Briefly recited, the following, with the above, constitute the history of the entire case:

In October, 1909, a convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors and Trainmen was held in Boston, at which the railroads in the eastern territory were represented and a set of regulations and rates of pay was adopted. This came to be known as the eastern federation scale of wages. This scale was submitted to the employees of the various railroads and was generally adopted. It was rejected by the trainmen on the Pennsylvania railroad, and therefore they were not a party to the general movement advocating this scale of wages. Later Pennsylvania railroad employees adopted a set of regulations and a scale of wages, dated Feb. 1, 1910, which was presented in turn to the general superintendent and general manager. The conditions are practically the same as those of the Eastern Federation association, but the rates are very much higher.

The first railroad in the east to accept the eastern federation's scale was the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and a scale of wages after negotiations with Messrs. Garretson and Lee was adopted by arbitration.

After considering the increase in wages made on the Baltimore and Ohio the company on April 1, 1910, in accordance with its policy of granting horizontal increases in wages to all classes of employees, made a general increase in rates of pay of 6 per cent to all employees of the company receiving under $300 per month, and the yard rates were adjusted to meet those accepted by the trainmen on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The committee representing the trainmen and conductors told General Manager Myers that these increases were not what they wanted, but that they would insist upon the acceptance of the conditions and rates of pay given in their position. Negotiations were carried on for some time and finally ceased when the committee was told by the general manager that the company could not grant more than the 6 per cent increase and the adjustment of any inequalities in rates of pay that might exist.

After the New York Central award had been made after arbitration and on a basis not so high as the eastern federation's schedule, the company decided that it was its duty to increase its rates of pay, and revisions involving substantial increases were made and put into effect June 1, 1910.

When the union committee rejected the June 1 wage adjustment the company offered to apply the New York Central rates and conditions provided it would not increase the company's rates of pay, but this proposition was rejected. The Pennsylvania was ready to pay for overtime on the New York Cetral basis, but not to make any increase except for over eleven hours.

In order that a clear understanding may be had of the financial obligations imposed upon the company, the various concessions and increases in wages recently granted, the following statement is submitted:

The general increase of 6 per cent granted to all employees receiving less than $300 per month and the adjustment in yardmen's hourly rate, effective April 1, 1910, resulted in an annual increase of $5,750,000, of which $505,000 is applicable to road trainmen and $455,000, or 8½ per cent, increase to yardmen.

The further adjustment in hourly rates of yardmen (not including an annual increase of $25,000 to yard enginemen and firemen) effective as of June 1, 1910, amounted to $385,000, or 6½ per cent annually.

The further adjustment in road trainmen's rates, effective as of June 1, 1910, resulted in an annual increase of $305,000, or 4 per cent annually.

These figures show an increase in wages of road trainmen and yardmen (not including enginemen and firemen) of $1,650,000, or 12 per cent annually.

The above figures indicate continued adherence to the policy of the Pennsylvania Railroad company to liberally compensate its employees for their services, giving due consideration to the circumstances and conditions under which service is performed.

The various increases and adjustments in wages of employees granted by the company since 1902 to date aggregate $28,000,000 annually.

Recognizing the interests of the stockholders of the company, it is considered that the adjustment and increases in wages granted to employees since April 1, 1910, and concessions offered to the committee are fair and equitable.

The company presents to the trainmen and the public these facts, together with statements of the trainmen, showing that the Pennsylvania railroad's rates of pay are higher than those of other roads with which it is in competition. The company urges the trainmen, therefore, in justice to themselves and their interests, which most certainly are identical with those of the company, carefully to consider and weigh all that is herein brought to their attention.

GETTING WEARY OF THE ATTACKS

Real Democrats Are Resenting Assaults Upon Their Party's Nominee

THIRD PARTY IS NOT LIKELY

Grim Has Sterling Record as Democrat and Is the Best Offering of His Party—Republicans United and Harmonious With Success Assured.

The professional disturbers who fatten on political discontent are having a woeful time just now in their determination to promote a third or distinctly independent State ticket in Pennsylvania. The renegade members of both old parties, calling themselves insurgents merely to conceal their identity as party wreckers and assuming the role of patriots when actually they are rebels, have, since the recent State conventions been wiggling about in fits of hysteria, demanding more tickets and more candidates or at least tickets and candidates of their choosing. The first and original hope of these nagging statesmen, these "better than thou" fellows was to have Colonel Roosevelt lead them into a national revolt. That hope, as every one knows, was barren. Colonel Roosevelt has returned to his home and has promptly and with his own force allied himself with the national administration and has extended to President Taft his support and confidence. That killed at one fell swoop the proposition to organize a Pinchot party to embarrass the regular Republican administration. Then the political discontents turned their attention to Pennsylvania. They proposed that W. J. Bryan should be allowed to name W. H. Berry as the Democratic candidate for governor. The Democrats of the State, or a large majority of them, refused to join in the Bryan-Berry movement and the party was to be wrecked as a consequence. Then followed the regular Republican convention. There were several candidates who carried their ambitions to the meeting place of the convention. The very best interests of the whole people were weighed carefully and with due consideration and John K. Tener, accepted by a vast majority of the convention delegates as the best [illegible] nominated. The [illegible] had failed to [illegible] of the movement to make a Pinchot party and who had been whipped at every turn in the effort to make Mr. Bryan's man Berry the Democratic candidate, but who had not been heard in the conference which made Mr. Tener the regular Republican candidate, attacked both the regular Democratic and the regular Republican candidates for Governor and pretended and preached that the people could best be served by the formation of an independent party which should have restless discontents on its ticket. The whole movement was simply a dastardly scheme to advance selfish political interests. The fair play people in Pennsylvania, and they are vastly in the majority, are disposed to resent the outrage. From what possible measurement or standard would either Mr. Bryan or Mr. Berry, his Pennsylvania representative, be better than either John K. Tener, the regular Republican candidate for governor, or Webster Grim, the regular Democratic candidate for the same office. To be sure, Mr. Berry has been at large in the State for three or four years braying himself hoarse with the one and only view of getting himself into some good office. Ever since Colonel J. M. Guffey, the head and front of the Democratic organization in the State, found Mr. Berry as an obscure figure in the eastern end of the State and made him the candidate for Democracy for State Treasurer, Mr. Berry has been playing to the galleries with a view to promoting only his selfish interests. At no time has Mr. Berry been known to make a move that was not intended to attract personal applause. As a fact Mr. Berry has never been a Democrat. His sympathy and support have always gone to the Prohibitionists. When he was unable to deliver the Democratic organization, bag and baggage, to the Prohibition party for his own advancement he quarreled with Democracy and Democratic leaders and since then has been out to wreck poor old Democracy. There are other trifling things which might be filed against Mr. Berry but he is not a candidate and is not likely to be a serious one. As a fact Webster Grim is beyond question the best offering that Democracy of Pennsylvania could make. Those who know him best understand thoroughly that he is sincere, honest and fairly capable. He is, however, a real Democrat and that alone should and of course will prevent his election. But to all intents and purposes he is a bigger man than Mr. Berry. He is just as honest and earnest and as a Democrat his public record is absolutely without a flaw. The Democrat workers of the State have grown weary of the attack upon Mr. Grim and they are protesting with eloquent force against the unprovoked assaults. In several counties of the State Democrats in convention have been emphatic in declaring that their patience had been exhausted by the discontents demanding that the Democratic State convention be reconvened so that another candidate may be named. The real Democrats are entirely satisfied with Mr. Grim and they are wholly dissatisfied with the methods being employed by the Bryan contingent in the State who are not opposed to Grim but are deeply grieved that Colonel Guffey managed the recent Democratic State convention and defeated the Bryan fellows by administering to them a real good whipping and a much deserved rebuke. An independent ticket is not likely under such circumstances and the real Democrats of the State fully realize that the fight against Mr. Grim is a delusion and a snare. It is but a cry of foul on the part of the Bryan contingent to get one more chance at Colonel Guffey or wreck the Democracy because Mr. Bryan is not allowed to dictate its candidates.

In the meantime let the parties multiply. The more parties there are in the approaching campaign in Pennsylvania the larger will be the majority of Mr. Tener for Governor. His nomination has pleased the rank and file of the Republican party as no other nomination could have pleased them. His nomination came direct from the Republican workers of the State and the Republican workers are abundantly able and willing to elect him. There is not a sore place in the Republican party of the State. The party leaders are assured of the loyal support of the party followers and the party candidates are confident of success at the hands of the united and harmonious party. If the discontents are able to extract comfort from an additional party or two let us have them without number. The "Outlook," the leading uplift magazine of the nation of which Theodore Roosevelt is an editor, says editorially that Mr. Tener's election is an easy matter.

How the Acheson Papers Knock Us

Observer Contributes Some Literary Gems on Charleroi's Fourth.

Charleroi celebrated the greatest Fourth of July in its history. Thousands attended the monster celebration. The entire town was decorated in the national colors and a monster parade featured the celebration. It was a noticeable feature that not a single miner was in the parade. It was a display of wealth, of automobiles and politicians. The Charleroi celebration was rivaled by that of Monessen, across the river. The Westmoreland countians had a parade much superior to that of the Magic City.—Washington Observer.

ALL INJURED ONES ON WAY TO RECOVERY

Anna Hamilton Will Live In Spite of Terrible Injuries

NO DATE SET FOR INQUEST

In spite of the terrible injuries which nine times out of ten would cause death, Anna Hamilton, the 19-year-old girl of Roscoe, who was the worst injured in the automobile accident at Beechwood park crossing a week ago, will live. This was the word received from the Monessen-Charleroi hospital this morning. Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Blanche Matheny, both of whom it was feared would die, will also recover. All three are conscious during their waking hours, and talk some. Their minds do not seem to be affected, but the hospital authorities do not allow them to excite themselves over the accident. Anna Hamilton had her skull fractured over her left eye, and the physicians in attendance feared she would lose the sight of this one eye, but there is hope that even this may not be affected. Coroner James T. Heffran has not announced the date of the postponed inquest, but it will not be held until the people in the hospital are in shape to give testimony.

Culler

Grace Culler, 10 months and 27 days old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culler of 1203 McKean avenue, died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock after an extended illness. The funeral will be held from the residence at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. M. Doak. Interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

Yarn Social

The Epworth League of the Methodist church is arranging to hold a "yarn" social at the home of John H. Frye, on Fifth street, next Tuesday evening. The feature will be the untangling of balls of yarn from bushes, and trees, and then the telling of "yarns" on assigned subjects.

President Feehan Views Settlement as a Victory ---Looks for Prosperous Conditions Year Round.

President Francis Feehan of the Number 5 district, U. M. W. of A., who was in Charleroi to spend the Fourth, professed himself to be much pleased with the outcome of the mine controversy, and the satisfactory settlement of it. He said that it was a victory for the men.

The settlement was effected upon compromise terms. All dues and assessments will be collected through the offices of the companies. Among the other concessions obtained are uniform wages for motormen of $2.70 per day, uniform wages for wiremen of $2.70 per day, abolition of charges for safety lamps, and a uniform rate of 5 cents per inch for slate over 12 inches thick.

President Feehan said that everything points to a prosperous year. The mines are nearly all working in this district and few miners are unemployed

NEW COMPANY PURCHASES COAL IN WEST VIRGINIA

Jesse K. Johnston, vice president and general manager of the Pitcairn Coal company, closed up a big coal deal at Clarksburg, W. Va., last week, whereby the Harry B. Clark Coal and Coke company of Fairmont W. Va., takes possession of the Pitcairn mine immediately for a period of twenty years on a royalty basis, which will net the Pitcairn Coal company $1,250 per acre. The tract of the Pitcairn Coal company is one of the best in the Fairmont region, containing 1,000 acres of Pittsburg vein nine feet thick, drift workings and self draining. It is also the key to adjoining coal, and has frontage for additional openings on the West Virginia and Pittsburg railroad. It has a modern equipped plant and miners village, and its present capacity is 1,000 tons a day.

The officials of the Harry B. Clark Coal and Coke company are Harry B. Clark of Fairmont, president, and John A. Clark, Jr., general manager. It is the intention of the officials of the Harry B. Clark Coal and Coke company to build additional miners houses, and an additional tipple, in order to increase the present output. The value of the Pittsburg vein in West Virginia is increasing very fast and recently large tracts in the Fairmont region have been purchased by the Jamison Coal and Coke company, The Keystone Coal and Coke company and the Pittsburg and Buffalo Coal company, all large Pennsylvania operators.

YOUNG COUPLE TWICE MARRIED AT COSHOCTON

Come to Charleroi, Where They Will Make Their Home.

FIRST WEDDING OPPOSED

After having been twice wedded, Frank O. Fahner and wife, have come to Charleroi from Coshocton, Ohio, to reside, where the groom is employed at the Casino restaurant. The bride was Miss Mary Drushl daughter of John Drushl. About a year ago the two were married in Cosbocton, Ohio, and came to Charleroi. The bride's parents were Catholics, but the groom was a Protestant. For this reason the bride's father would not countenance the ceremony. A short time ago Mrs. Fahner returned to Coshocton, and in the meantime Mr. Fahner embraced the Catholic faith, with the result that the couple were again wedded recently according to the rites of that church.

NOTED RINGGOLD LEADER VISITOR HERE ON FOURTH

Col. Griffith Comes From Ohio to Participate in Parade

Among the noted men in Charleroi for the Fourth celebration was Col. W. E. Griffith, a prominent contractor of Ohio, who responded to the invitation to come and participate in the parade. Col. Griffith is a veteran of the Civil war, and was a member of the famous Ringgold cavalry. He remained over for a visit with friends in this section.

Col. Gritffith is prominent in Grand Army and military circles, being a past department commander of the G. A. R. for the State of Maryland, and a member of the Loyal Legion and several military clubs. He was also a National bank examiner and has held various government positions. He claims to be one of the youngest "old boys" in the Ringgold organization. He is expected to be one of the prominent figures at the Ringgold reunion to be held in Donora in August.

WASHINGTON AVES. FAIL TO APPEAR

There was no game in the church league last night, owing to a misunderstanding. The Methodists and the Washington Avenue Presbyterians were to play, but the latter team, it is said, were not aware of the scheduled contest, it being a postponed game. The Methodists played a picked up team and were beaten in a good game by the score of 3 to 1. Pollock pitched for the Methodists, and for the "Outlaws" Osborne pitched and Haywood caught.

Game Tonight

The "Railroaders" consisting of freight and Adams Express employes will play the Methodists on the baseball grounds tonight.

CANDIDATES FOR COUNTY JOBS BEGIN TO LINE UP

Four Mentioned Prominently for District Attorney

OFFICES TO BE FILLED

Sheriff to be Elected Next Year Along with Other Officials.

Already candidates are beginning to line up in preparation for the contest which will be waged at the June primaries next year for district attorney. Two persons are considering the feasibility of entering the race for the Republican nomination, and it is said have definitely decided to come out as candidates. These are Ralph Allison and James P. Eagleson, both prominent attorneys of Washington.

A number of the friends of C. L. V. Acheson, it is said, will urge him to be a candidate for a second term, and if he accedes to their wishes is expected to make a strong fight. Another person who will likely come out is T. H. W. Fergus, the present assistant district attorney, who would put up a strong battle.

Indications also point to a desperate fight for the Republican nomination for county treasurer. While no one in particular is known to have announced, it is stated that several candidates are already laying plans to make the run, and will announce at the earliest possible minute. Among these is said to be Boyd Parshal of Washington, who was a candidate for the nomination in 1908, and who made a very creditable showing. The river district is pretty sure to turn up at least one candidate and as the field is open many others will no doubt make a try for the nomination.

There will also be a hot fight for the nomination for sheriff, and every section of the county will in all probability turn up one or more candidates. Thus far Bert Lutton of Washington and "Abbey" Gregg of Monongahela are talked of as candidates. The offices of prothonotary, clerk of the courts, register and county commissioner will also bring many candidates in the field. As the nomination depends upon the getting the most votes, no one can dictate any of the nominations, and for this reason a hot fight is anticipated at the next primary.

Foreigners Fined for Celebrations

Tenth Street Crowd Had Too Much Going on The Fourth of July

For fighting on the Fourth of July Frank Sank, Peter Kubick and B. Kubick were each fined $2.00 and costs, Joe Kubick $8 00 and costs, Tom Balinsky and James Steinslisky each $1.00 and costs by Burgess Risbeck at a hearing last night. The physical discussion was in the Tenth street district, but what it started from is a mystery. It appears that Joe Kubick beat his wife, and the others beat each other. Joseph Wilinksi, a bad man who had a knife and thought he knew how to use it, was arrested in connection with the affair, but had not been given his hearing yet

Alfy Stewart Says Few Things from the Bottom of His Heart

BUM FIREWORKS DISPLAY

To the Editor of the Mail:

Kindly allow me sufficient space in your paper to make an apology to the public for the very bum and miserable fireworks display inflicted on them on the evening of the 4th of July. The fireworks purchased were of a good quality and of such a variety as to have pleased the most exacting. The fault was entirely with the fireworks committee. There was a sufficient number of men on this committee, and had they reported for duty the display could have been put off with a snap and vim that would have pleased everybody. But one man showed up after the undersigned had done all the heavy work. I had been promised a tarpaulin to cover the stock to protect it from falling sparks and burning material. That did not materialize, which caused annoying delays, and in their exposed condition we risked our lives every minute of the time until they were all discharged

Mr. Louis Collins was the only committeeman who reported. Mr. James Schnelbach volunteered his services which were gladly accepted and highly appreciated. If the public will forgive me this time they will never have occasion to again, that is if Providence allows me to retain what little bit of grey matter I now possess.

Yours very truly,
Alfred P. Stewart.

P. S.—This apology is caused by the sluring remarks of some of my wise guy friends, who could not successfully put a match to a hot plate even after their women folks had assured them there was no danger.

Lorenzo Flowers has returned from Buffalo, where he has been the guest of his granddaughter.

PROPERTY OWNERS WANT LONG ALLEY GRADED AND PAVED

A petition has been presented to council by former Councilman J. A. Odbert on behalf of property owners along Long alley, between Secon and Fourth streets, to have that par of the alley paved. The petition is signed by more than the necessary two-thirds of the owners. It was not taken up at the meeting of council last night, but will likely be deferred until an adjourned session.

GETTING WEARY OF THE ATTACKS

Real Democrats Are Resenting Assaults Upon Their Party's Nominee

THIRD PARTY IS NOT LIKELY

Grim Has Sterling Record as Democrat and Is the Best Offering of His Party—Republicans United and Harmonious With Success Assured.

The professional disturbers who fatten on political discontent are having a woeful time just now in their determination to promote a third or distinctly independent State ticket in Pennsylvania. The renegade members of both old parties, calling themselves insurgents merely to conceal their identity as party wreckers and assuming the role of patriots when actually they are rebels, have, since the recent [illegible] wiggling about in fits of hysteria, demanding more tickets and more candidates or at least tickets and candidates of their choosing. The first and original hope of these nagging statesmen, these "better than thou" fellows was to have Colonel Roosevelt lead them into a national revolt. That hope, as every one knows, was barren. Colonel Roosevelt has returned to his home and has promptly and with his own force allied himself with the national administration and has extended to President Taft his support and confidence. That killed at one fell swoop the proposition to organize a Pinchot party to embarrass the regular Republican administration. Then the political discontents turned their attention to Pennsylvania. They proposed that W. J. Bryan should be allowed to name W. H. Berry as the Democratic candidate for governor. The Democrats of the State, or a large majority of them, refused to join in the Bryan-Berry movement and the party was to be wrecked as a consequence. Then followed the regular Republican convention. There were several candidates who carried their ambitions to the meeting place of the convention. The very best interests of the whole people were weighed carefully and with due consideration and John K. Tener, accepted by a vast majority of the convention delegates as the best [illegible] had failed to control the movement to make a Pinchot party and who had been whipped at every turn in the effort to make Mr. Bryan's man Berry the Democratic candidate, but who had not been heard in the conference which made Mr. Tener the regular Republican candidate, attacked both the regular Democratic and the regular Republican candidates for Governor and pretended and preached that the people could best be served by the formation of an independent party which should have restless discontents on its ticket. The whole movement was simply a dastardly scheme to advance selfish political interests. The fair play people in Pennsylvania, and they are vastly in the majority, are disposed to resent the outrage. From what possible measurement or standard would either Mr. Bryan or Mr. Berry, his Pennsylvania representative, be better than either John K. Tener, the regular Republican candidate for governor, or Webster Grim, the regular Democratic candidate for the same office. To be sure, Mr. Berry has been at large in the State for three or four years braying himself hoarse with the one and only view of getting himself into some good office. Ever since Colonel J. M. Guffey, the head and front of the Democratic organization in the State, found Mr. Berry as an obscure figure in the eastern end of the State and made him the candidate for Democracy for State Treasurer, Mr. Berry has been playing to the galleries with a view to promoting only his selfish interests. At no time has Mr. Berry been known to make a move that was not intended to attract personal applause. As a fact Mr. Berry has never been a Democrat. His sympathy and support have always gone to the Prohibitionists. When he was unable to deliver the Democratic organization, bag and baggage, to the Prohibition party for his own advancement he quarreled with Democracy and Democratic leaders and since then has been out to wreck poor old Democracy. There are other truthful things which might be filed against Mr. Berry but he is not a candidate and is not likely to be a serious one. As a fact Webster Grim is beyond question the best offering that Democracy of Pennsylvania could make. Those who know him best understand thoroughly that he is sincere, honest and fairly capable. He is, however, a real Democrat and that alone should and of course will prevent his election. But to all intents and purposes he is a bigger man than Mr. Berry. He is just as honest and earnest and as a Democrat his public record is absolutely without a flaw. The Democrat workers of the State have grown weary of the attack upon Mr. Grim and they are protesting with eloquent force against the unprovoked assault. In several counties of the State Democrats in convention have been emphatic in declaring that their patience had been exhausted by the discontents demanding that the Democratic State convention be reconvened so that another candidate may be named. The real Democrats are entirely satisfied with Mr. Grim and they are wholly dissatisfied with the methods being employed by the Bryan contingent in the State who are not opposed to Grim but are deeply grieved that Colonel Guffey managed the recent Democratic State convention and defeated the Bryan fellows by administering to them a real good whipping and a much deserved rebuke. An independent ticket is not likely under such circumstances and the real Democrats of the State fully realize that the fight against Mr. Grim is a delusion and a snare. It is but a cry of foul on the part of the Bryan contingent to get one more chance at Colonel Guffey or wreck the Democratic [illegible] Mr. Bryan is not allowed to dictate its candidates.

In the meantime let the parties multiply. The more parties there are in the approaching campaign in Pennsylvania the larger will be the majority of Mr. Tener for Governor. His nomination has pleased the rank and file of the Republican party as no other nomination could have pleased them. His nomination came direct from the Republican workers of the State and the Republican workers are abundantly able and willing to elect him. There is not a sore place in the Republican party of the State. The party leaders are assured of the loyal support of the party followers and the party candidates are confident of success at the hands of the united and harmonious party. If the discontents are able to extract comfort from an additional party or two let us have them without number. The "Outlook," the leading uplift magazine of the nation of which Theodore Roosevelt is an editor, says editorially that Mr. Tener's election is an easy matter.
